

Welcome to the CEWF Communications Project on extreme water levels.

We receive numerous comments and queries on how the Trent Severn Waterway (TSW) is operated particularly during extreme events and why water levels are either higher or lower than normal. The following two videos and accompanying Worksheet are meant to address these questions and to assist property owners to prepare their waterfronts for the extremes of high and low water which will undoubtedly occur in the future.

Video 1 - TSW Operations and Climate Change – click here

Video 2 - What you can do – click here

Water Level Extremes Information Worksheet – click here